

Fairhaven Health Announces Sponsorship of the American Pregnancy Association to Promote Reproductive and Pregnancy Wellness

Fairhaven Health recently partnered with the American Pregnancy Association in an effort to help educate and support trying-to-conceive and pregnant couples. The American Pregnancy Association is a popular nonprofit organization that provides couples with a host of educational materials, a toll-free helpline, and a new storefront featuring Fairhaven Health products such as ovulation prediction tools, fertility supplements, and more.

Bellingham, WA (PRWEB) November 27, 2013 -- Fairhaven Health and the American Pregnancy Association have teamed up to promote reproductive and pregnancy wellness. Through this partnership, Fairhaven Health will provide and manage an online storefront on the American Pregnancy website featuring products to help couples conceive naturally.

“We’re thrilled to be working with the American Pregnancy Association in this capacity,” said Ethan Lynette, senior partner at Fairhaven Health. “American Pregnancy is a leader in providing information and support to pregnant and aspiring pregnant women. Fairhaven Health is a leading provider of products for that same population. This partnership leverages the strengths of both organizations for the benefit of couples and babies throughout the U.S. and Canada.”

The American Pregnancy Association started in 1995 as a national helpline to support women. The nonprofit’s mission has always been to help connect women and families to local resources in their geographic area to enrich their pregnancy, birth and parenting experiences.

“Collaborating with Fairhaven Health only made sense, when our mission is to connect women to resources to help resolve their challenges,” said Dr. Brad Imler, President of the American Pregnancy Association. “It was obvious that Fairhaven could provide a variety of resources with one simple call.”

Couples can access the American Pregnancy Association’s educational articles, discussion forums, and toll-free helpline from the comfort of their home. Educational topics range from getting pregnant to birth and beyond, and all things in between. Whether couples are trying to get pregnant or discovering those first signs of pregnancy, they can participate in the online discussion forums or call the toll-free helpline at 1-800-672-2296 for information, support and access to care.

The American Pregnancy Association also provides an online resource store featuring Fairhaven Health’s breadth of products to help couples conceive. Visitors to the American Pregnancy Association website can now learn about and purchase ovulation prediction tools, fertility supplements, and much more.
