

Fairhaven Health Introduces New Products for Postpartum Moms and Their Babies

Fairhaven Health product line expands to include natural products for postpartum women and their babies.

Bellingham, WA (PRWEB) October 01, 2013 -- For over a decade, Fairhaven Health has provided couples with all-natural fertility, pregnancy, and nursing support products. The leading innovator in preconception through nursing products has just expanded its market to include natural products for postpartum women and their babies, including Sitting Pretty Soothing Spray and Balm, along with Happy Bottom Baby Balm.

To say that childbirth takes a physical toll on a woman's body is definitely an understatement – it can take several weeks or even longer before a woman feels like herself again after giving birth. The Sitting Pretty Soothing Spray and Balm are designed to provide quick relief from the pain and discomfort caused by perineal tears, vaginal swelling and bruising, and hemorrhoids, while accelerating the natural healing process.

The Sitting Pretty Soothing products include natural ingredients to tone, tighten and regenerate skin; peppermint oil to cool and numb aching parts; herbal extracts and lavender essential oils to soothe and heal swollen tissue; and tea tree oil and grapefruit seed extract for a natural disinfectant.

And, now more than ever, new parents are looking to all-natural baby care products as alternatives to their chemical laden counterparts. Many diaper creams contain harsh chemicals, but Happy Bottom Baby Balm provides all-natural soothing relief for diaper rash and skin irritation. Happy Bottom Baby Balm includes colloidal oatmeal, cocoa and shea butter, and organic oils to moisturize and soothe baby's soft skin; coconut oil, tea tree oil, and grapefruit seed extract to help combat infection (including yeast infections); and herbal extracts to provide healing relief for baby.
