

Fairhaven Health Partners with Florida Mother and Firefighter to Launch Milk Trays, Adding Them to Their Popular Breastfeeding Line, Milkies.

Firefighter and Mompreneur, Tobi Porter, teams with Fairhaven Health to bring her Milkies Milk Trays to the Market

(PRWEB) November 12, 2014 -- Firefighter and Mompreneur, Tobi Porter, has teamed with Fairhaven Health to launch her new line of Milk Trays for breastfeeding moms.

For over a decade, Fairhaven Health has been home to a diverse collection of natural fertility, pregnancy, and nursing products developed by trusted healthcare professionals.

Fresh for the new year, they're uniting and rebranding their Milkies collection to make it even easier and more convenient for busy moms to find the breastfeeding solutions they need at a glance.

Understanding that moms need options, Fairhaven Health has partnered with Tobi Porter, adding her Milk Trays to their popular line of Milkies nursing products.

Serving as a full-time firefighter paramedic near Tampa, FL, Porter developed the Milk Tray as a way to continue breastfeeding despite a hectic work schedule fraught with 24 hour shifts.

"I've always wanted Milk Trays to become the leading choice in breast milk storage," said Porter. "I know that under the guiding hand of Fairhaven Health this dream will become a reality."

Milkies Milk Trays are specifically designed for freezing and storing one ounce servings of breast milk, so they can be defrosted and used at a moment's notice.

The reusable tray completely eliminates waste commonly associated with breast milk bags, while taking up less space in the freezer and providing moms with perfectly sized portions every time. They can fit in any bottle opening and are BPA free.

Located in Bellingham, WA, Fairhaven Health has been breaking new ground within the pregnancy and newborn fields through effective, quality products developed by specialists and medical professionals since 2002. All of their designs are BPA-free, feature no artificial flavors, colors, or preservatives, and are manufactured in the United States by GMP certified facilities for added peace of mind.
